ALLEGHENY COUNTY UNION REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

State Senator—Russell Errett.

Assembly—George Wilson, William R. Ford, Alexander Miller, Augustus Beckert, George R. Riddle, and David L. Smith.

Prothonotary—Jacob H. Walter.

Treasurer—J. F. Denniston.

Commissioner—A. Pillow.

Coroner—William Clawson.

Poor Director—R. H. Davis.

Jury Commissioner—Chas. Pugh.

MR. ERRETT NOMINATED.

The action, yesterday, of the Allegheny County Republican Convention, in nominating Mr. RUSSELL ERRETT for State Senator, meets our cordial approval. That it was done by the strong vote of 93 to 73, adds materially to our gratification. Our reasons for urging this selection have been fully set forth, and it is needless to recapitulate them. Those reasons, or others of like cogency, seem to have pressed with equal weight upon the members of the Convention as upon ourselves.

While we do not endorse all Mr. BIGHAM has done or left undone during his Senatorial term, nothing has appeared in his official conduct, or in his personal relations to us, which would have prevented us from giving him a cordial support if the Convention had seen proper to make him the candidate. He has excellent qualifications, and in many respects has made good use of them. It is to the credit of Mr. ERRETT that the nomination was given him over a competitor who has many strong claims to yet farther promotion at the hands of the Republican party.

FOR ASSEMBLY.

Agreeable to the wishes of the Republicans of Allegheny county, expressed through the party organs and otherwise, the Convention which assembled yesterday nominated a legislative ticket which cannot fail to give very general satisfaction. There were several candidates presented whose selection over others we might have preferred, but bowing to the better judgment of the Convention, we are prepared to award a hearty support to the ticket, as it stands, and trust it will be liberally endorsed by every Republican voter in the county. Following are the gentlemen nominated for Assembly:

MR. GEORGE WILSON, of Oakland township, the only one of the members of the last Legislature honored by a renomination, is of our most respected and worthy citizens. He is retiring in his disposition, but is faithful to principle, and can always be relied upon in an emergency. He is honest, upright, conscientious and true; firm, dignified, intelligent, capable and patriotic. His nomination will be seconded by every right thinking person, and his name will prove a tower of strength to the ticket.

MR. WILLIAM R. FORD, of the Ninth ward, the only gentleman selected from the city, is not unknown to our readers. He has long ably represented that district in the Common Council, and through marked ability, keen perception, fine address and undoubted integrity, has made for himself a host of friends and admirers. He is a sound thinker and possesses the way of making others participate in his ideas. As a free railroad advocate he will be heard with effect in the House, and we venture to predict that no Representative will give more general satisfaction to his constituents.

MR. ALEXANDER MILLER, of McKeesport, was an Alderman of the Second ward, city, from 1843 to 1855. He retired from that position and engaged in the coal trade, from which he derived a sufficient competence to enable him to withdraw from active business life. He is universally respected by his fellow-citizens, and possesses all the essential requirements for a good legislator. Voters may rest assured that he will always be found where he is wanted, and that he will invariably adhere to that which he believes honest and right.

MR. AUGUSTUS BECKERT, of Reserve township, served with honor and credit in the Union army. At the second battle of Bull Run he lost a leg, and uncarded for was left on the battle field for the long period of five days. After recovering sufficiently from his terrible wound, he was assigned to a clerkship at Washington. Here he served faithfully till the apostacy of Andrew Johnson, when, we believe, he fell a victim to the proscription policy. We have no personal acquaintance with the gentleman, but are assured that he is able and intelligent, and in every way worthy the honor bestowed on him.

MR. GEORGE R. RIDDLE, of Allegheny, has long been regarded as one of the representative citizens of the county. Some years ago he occupied the responsible office of Prothonotary, the duties of which he performed to full satisfaction. He was subsequently attached to the Sheriff's office, where he likewise performed his duties in a manner which reflected the highest credit on his executive abilities. He is a firm Republican, and no person can attach any reproach on his public or private character. His name adds weight and influence to the ticket.

COL. D. L. SMITH served with honor and distinction in the Union army, occupying several arduous and responsible positions. He was ever found honest and trustworthy, and faithful to the interests of the Government. His military record is unexceptional, and the nomination was conferred as a fitting reward for his patriotic conduct during the recent rebellion.

THAT terrible epidemic, the yellow fever, still prevails in Galveston, Texas. The disease is unusually fatal, and a large percentage of those attacked fail to recover. The Howard Association and Sisters of Charity have done noble work, but are crippled in their efforts for want of funds. Any of our charitable citizens who may desire contributing towards relieving the distress of the poor and suffering of that city can do so by sending their money to FLAKE'S BULLETIN, Galveston, Texas, the editors of which will see that it is properly applied.

THE New York Times awards considerable praise to a Pennsylvania Judge for setting aside Friday as "hangman's day," and substituting another for the execution of George Winnemore. The Times' writer must have been asleep to affaire in this State or he would have known that to Governor Curtin we owe the innovation.

ON Monday of the present week, several of the principal officers of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company were displaced. Rumor says fast living, and the natural accompaniments thereto, were the cause.

FIRST EDITION.

MIDNIGHT.

UNION REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The delegates elected by the Union Republicans of Allegheny County on Saturday last met in convention at the Court House on Tuesday, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Senator and also six candidates for Assembly. Hours before the time fixed for the assembling of the Convention the rotunda and Court House grounds swarmed with delegates, candidates and their friends, and the scene was quite an animated one, as much so as any similar occasion in our experience.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

For permanent Chairman A. M. Watson nominated J. W. F. White, of Sewickley, and Col. Errett. Dilworth nominated Isaac Jones, of Oakland.

The question being taken, the Chairman said he was unable to decide.

A "division" was called for, but this was deemed impracticable, owing to the crowded state of the room.

The Convention finally decided, after considerable discussion and confusion, that the question be taken viva voce.

The result was announced as follows: Mr. White, eighty-seven votes; Mr. Jones, sixty-seven votes.

Mr. White was called to the chair. He returned thanks for the honor conferred. This was the second time he had been a delegate to the same convention. It was the first time he had been called to preside, and he felt the more honored for the reason that he had not sought the contrast with Mr. Ferguson. He would have preferred the selection of Mr. Jones, by reason of his experience in such matters. He would discharge the duties required of him to the best of his judgment and ability, and asked the convention to lend him its support. The nomination of a subject of the assemblage was a most important one, and he hoped that good men would be selected. He represented Allegheny county in the State Legislature.

On motion of A. M. Watson the following Vice Presidents were chosen: Sewickley township, of Liberty, John Morrison, of Allegheny, Richard Thompson, city, Joseph Shorgan, of Indiana, Abdiel McClure, of Mifflin, A. M'Cord, of Pine, George Neely of Marshall.

On motion of William Scandrett, the temporary Secretaries were retained, and Messrs. Wilson, Ferguson, Wilson, Joseph Stotler, of Penn, Abdiel McClure, of Mifflin, A. M'Cord, of Pine, George Neely of Marshall.

CONTESTED SEATS.

D. B. Ferguson moved the appointment of a Committee of five on Contested Seats, two sets of delegates claiming admission from the Third ward of the city, and the borough of East Birmingham.

C. W. Robb moved that all resolutions for presentation to the Convention be referred to the Committee on Resolutions. Carried.

On motion of Mr. Watson, the delegate present from Tarentum borough, Mr. Davis, was allowed to vote for his colleague, Mr. McClelland, who was absent, owing to illness.

The Chairman announced that he had been informed the seat of Mr. Ferguson, as a delegate from Mt. Washington, was contested, and as the Chairman would not appoint Mr. F. on the Committee on Contested Seats, as parliamentary rules required, Mr. F. only made the motion for the appointment of the Committee.

Mr. Ferguson said his seat was not contested. A paper presented to that effect had been sent out by the temporary Chairman, for the reason that it bore no signature.

The Chairman inquired if any member of the convention contested the seat of Mr. Ferguson?

There was no response and the matter was apparently dropped.

In a few moments after Joseph Hastings of the Third ward, contesting for a seat in the Convention, protested against the appointment of Mr. Ferguson on the Committee on Contested Seats.

The Chairman stated that Mr. Hastings had no voice in the Convention, and hence his protest was out of order.

Capt. Hendrickson said he did; that his papers (credentials) were presented at the same time Mr. Ferguson's were; that all he asked was a hearing.

Mr. Ferguson inquired if the Convention waited Mr. Bigham's convenience until a man could be found to contest his (Mr. F's.) seat. He (Mr. F.) had been acting in the Convention for two hours without objection, the temporary Chairman having ruled the contesting paper out of order. He also wanted nothing more than the fair thing; but things looked a little strange to him.

Mr. Reed stated that he understood the seat of Mr. Harper, one of the Secretaries, was also contested. If so, he should retire from his position.

COMMITTEE ANNOUNCED.

The Chairman announced the Committee on Resolutions, viz: Hon. John Morrison, A. M. Watson, C. W. Robb, Alex. Miller, Jacob F. Slagle.

The following Committee on Contested Seats was appointed: W. B. Hunter, J. K. Brown, Isaac Jones, S. McIlhenny, A. Hobson.

The chairman stated that Mr. Ferguson had waived his claim to be a member of the committee.

CANDIDATES PRESENTED.

The suggesting of names of candidates for nomination was next in order.

Russell Errett and Thomas J. Bigham were named for Senate, and some forty were suggested for Assembly.

The usual confusion following in the presentation of candidates. Mr. R. P. Nevin suggested that the rush might be obviated by a resolution to place the last name presented first on the list.

A motion finally prevailed that the list be arranged alphabetically and that it be printed for the convenience of delegates, and also for the balloting.

Mr. James Onslow, having been nominated for Assembly, asked the privilege of withdrawing his name. The privilege was granted and Mr. O.'s name stricken from the list.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention reassembled at one o'clock, was called to order by the Chairman, and proceeded to business.

On motion, a Committee was appointed to clear the bar, which was allotted to the delegates, of all persons not members of the Convention.

CONTESTED SEATS.

Mr. Hunter, Chairman of the Committee on Contested Seats, presented the report of the Committee admitting the following named gentlemen whose seats as delegates had been contested:

Mt. Washington—D. B. Ferguson and Jacob Gelb.

East Birmingham—Wm. Mittenewt and Alexander McKee.

Sixth Ward, Allegheny—J. C. Harper and Thomas Barnes.

Third Ward, Pittsburgh—W. J. White and A. J. Kemp.

The report was adopted and the Committee discharged.

On motion, the report of the Committee on Resolutions was deferred until after the nominations.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF CANDIDATES.

The Chairman read a printed list of the candidates placed in nomination before the Convention—two for Senate and forty for Assembly—when the names of L. Reiber, Esq., of Pittsburgh, and Samuel Palmer, of Allegheny, were withdrawn.

The Convention then, on motion, proceeded to mark for candidates. During the marking the names of John A. Danks, of Etna township, and James Marshall, of Allegheny city, who were before the Convention as candidates for Assembly, were withdrawn.

The marking commenced at half past one o'clock, and the result of the first ballot, was announced at four, as follows:

[Those in italic were old members.]

As Chairman announced that Colonel Errett had received the nomination for State Senator, and that Mr. Beckert had been nominated as one of the six Assemblymen.

SECOND BALLOT.

It was moved to proceed to a second ballot for the remaining Assemblymen. Carried.

It was also moved and carried that those of the candidates who received more than twenty-five votes be dropped from the list. This cut off twenty-three.

After the second ballot had progressed for some time the name of Wm. Peters was withdrawn.

Near the close of the ballot the Chairman stated that he had been requested to withdraw the name of Mr. Glass.

Jay Monongahela Edwards a delegate stated that the name of Mr. Glass had been withdrawn without authority.

The Chairman stated that he had simply complied with the request of the delegate, a friend of Mr. Glass.

The Chairman was asked to produce or point out the law. The Chairman complied by designating Mr. Biddle Coursin as the delegate who had requested him to withdraw the name of Mr. Glass.

Some further explanation followed in an undertone, and it was understood that the name of Mr. Glass was not withdrawn.

The ballot was announced as follows:

D. R. Coon	64	Wm. Espy	49
W. R. Ford	126	J. F. Glass	26
Samuel Kerr	51	Hugh Lee	30
Alex. Miller	83	G. R. Riddle	92
D. L. Smith	81	D. Shaffer	25
George Wilson	118	D. N. White	61

The Chairman announced that on the majority basis of the first ballot Messrs. Ford, Riddle and Wilson were nominated. He understood, however, that the delegates on two districts had not voted on the second ballot, which would reduce the number necessary to a choice from eighty-four to eighty-two, and in this case Mr. Miller was also nominated.

Mr. Nevin suggested the propriety of another ballot.

Mr. R. M. Bailey, of Allegheny, moved that D. L. Smith be nominated by acclamation.

These motions were each received with an emphatic "no," but nevertheless the delegates making them insisted on the Chairman putting the question.

The Chairman, after the confusion had somewhat subsided, said he would entertain no motion until the Convention came to order.

Mr. Nevin again suggested that another ballot be had for the two remaining candidates for Assembly. It would not occupy much more than an hour's time, and would be the most satisfactory way of settling the dispute.

The motions for the nomination by acclamation of Messrs. Smith and Glass, were boisterously insisted upon.

The Chairman stated that the Convention had adopted a resolution to nominate by balloting, and until that was rescinded, he would decide the motions to nominate by acclamation out of order. The only motion in order was that to proceed to a 3d ballot.

It was suggested that the aggregate of the votes cast on the second ballot be divided by five (the number of candidates voted for by each delegate,) as a means of determining the number necessary to a choice. This was assented to and the Secretaries proceeded to count the votes.

Mr. Darling, one of the Secretaries, announced the total number of votes as seven hundred and sixty, which divided by five would give the number at four hundred and fifty-two, and hence the majority, or number of votes necessary to a choice, would be seventy-seven. But Mr. Davis stated that delegates had not voted for not more than two candidates. Hence the average of one hundred and fifty-two votes was also a fair one.

A third ballot was again strenuously insisted upon by Mr. Nevin, and more confusion followed, which the Chairman finally managed to check by proposing the most speedy solution of the difference. He would decide, under the count of the votes as made by the Secretaries, that Messrs. Miller and Smith were nominated—the former having received eighty-three and the latter eighty-one votes—and the Convention might express its dissent or approval of the decision by an appeal from the Chair.

This proposition was received with a motion being made that the decision should be sustained, the question was taken by a call of the delegates, each responding "yes" or "no," as his name was called.

The vote resulted: ayes, eighty-eight; nays, sixty-four.

So the decision of the chair was sustained and Messrs. Miller and Smith were declared nominated, thus completing the list of Assemblymen viz: Augustus Beckert, W. R. Ford, George R. Riddle, George Wilson, Alexander Miller, and David L. Smith.

The result was received with great cheering.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

Hon. John Morrison now submitted the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, 1. That we condemn the recent conduct of Andrew Johnson, the President, who, in his mad career, has wholly abandoned the loyal masses that elevated him to office, and is now acting in council with men whose hands are yet red with the loyal blood of our nation's defenders.

2. That should Pennsylvania cast her vote this fall for Judge Sharswood, it would throughout the length and breadth of the land be hailed as an endorsement of the infamy and treason of Andrew Johnson's administration, and on this great issue, so important in its influence and far-reaching in its results, we confidently appeal to our patriotic sons. Allegheny county, ever proudly foremost in the memorable and heroic struggles of the past few years, will not now add to her record in the final and decisive battles for the triumph of the right.

3. That in presenting the Hon. H. W. Williams as our candidate for Supreme Judge, our State Convention performed an act of great wisdom, for which we are profoundly thankful. His record is one of unimpeachable integrity and ability, and a devoted patriot in the hour of our country's great peril, will compare with that of any aspirant for the distinguished position for which he has been nominated. His loyalty and devotion to his country form a striking contrast with the course pursued by his competitor, Judge Sharswood, and we promise him from "old Allegheny" an old-fashioned majority to hail our loyal brethren in other parts of the State.

4. That the official career of the late Minister of War, Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, has shed new lustre upon the American name. Our people and their chief, the beloved and lamented Lincoln, in the darkest hours of rebellion leaned upon his sturdy patriotism, inexorable purpose and great abilities with an abiding faith and hope. His removal at this juncture from his responsible trust was an act of boldness and ingratitude, which should receive the condemnation of every true patriot.

5. That the Republicans of Allegheny county, his late fellow-citizens, now in General Convention assembled, in view of his distinguished services to his country, his fearless denunciation of treason while in the Cabinet of the late President Buchanan, his faithfulness and zeal under President Lincoln, and his heroic efforts to secure a just and enlightened reconstruction of the American Union under Andrew Johnson, do extend to the Hon. Edwin M. Stanton an invitation to visit his former home at such time as may suit his convenience, and that a Committee of thirteen be appointed by the Chair to forward to him a copy of these resolutions.

6. That we now (as heretofore) heartily approve of the course pursued by General Grant, His skill and devotion to duty in the field, give promise of wisdom and true patriotism in the Cabinet. May his presence there be a check to the wicked devices of bad men; and to the unfortunate occupant of the Presidential chair let that presence reflect "the handwriting on the wall"—weighed in the balance and found wanting."

7. That we again approve of the official course of General Sheridan, as commander of the Fifth Military District, and condemn his removal as unwise and disloyal. We will do justice by the General and his Chief.

8. That we cordially approve of the honest, able and patriotic administration of Governor John W. Geary.

9. That we hereby instruct our representatives in the Senate and House of Representatives to oppose all attempts on the part of corporations and individuals to monopolize the Railroad traffic and business of the Commonwealth, and believing that every legitimate avenue for the enterprise of our citizens should be left open to all, we instruct them to work and vote for a liberal Free Railroad Law, and for the restoration of the charter of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Rail Road Company.

The Convention adjourned at a quarter past six o'clock.

Allegheny Board of School Controllers Monthly Meeting.

The Board of School Controllers of Allegheny city held a regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening September 3d, at the Fourth ward School House.

Present—Messrs. Brown, Boyle, Barker, Speer, Swindell, Thompson, Thaw, Harbaugh, Ingham, Kollock, Kay, Lochnis, Legvate, Lockhart, McClintock, Ross, Swift, Scott, Pfoutz and the President, Young.

In the absence of the vice chairman, Dr. Clark, Mr. Loomis was called to the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Benny presented the nominations of the Local Board of the First Ward, stating that Mr. Loomis had declined to be considered as a candidate, owing to the fact that Miss Bella Cunningham and Miss Maria Ackley were elected to fill vacancies occasioned by the resignation of Miss Patterson and Miss M. J. McClain, of the boys' first and second primary department. The nominations were confirmed.

Mr. Barker presented the report of the Third Ward Board, which reported the resignation of Miss Lizzie Wakeman, and the promotion of Miss Mary McVaigh to the vacancy and Miss Annie Hunter to the medium departments, and the election of Miss Hannah M. Allen, of Allegheny city, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Hunter.

Mr. Ross called attention to the fact that the Fifth and Sixth Ward Boards were short of funds, and that the Allegheny members of the Finance Committee, he asked that some action be taken so that those Boards can be represented when they report those items.

It was moved that the Treasurer be authorized to draw a warrant for the salary of the German teacher for thirty days, ending September next, and no longer. This motion occasioned considerable discussion. The local board had engaged the teacher for a year, and it was contended by some of the speakers that it was unjust to dismiss him now.

The ayes and nays were then called, with the following result: Ayes—Brown, Boyle, Chadwick, Dunlap, Pollock, Loomis, Lockhart, Ross, Swindell, Thaw, Taylor, Ayres —Barr, Beckert, Ingham, Benny, Kay, McClinton, Ross, Francis, Leggate, Thorn —30.

The motion was accordingly declared carried.

The election of a music teacher was then proposed. Some of the members thought two music teachers would be advisable. One member thought the salary of the assistant teacher should be set apart for teaching music.

The names of J. M. Darling, David Cornelius, and Wm. Slack were rescinded, he would decide the motions to nominate by acclamation out of order. The only motion in order was that to proceed to a 2d ballot.

It was suggested that the aggregate of the votes cast on the second ballot be divided by five (the number of candidates voted for by each delegate,) as a means of determining the number necessary to a choice. This was assented to and the Secretaries proceeded to count the votes.

Mr. Darling, one of the Secretaries, announced the total number of votes as seven hundred and sixty, which divided by five would give the number at four hundred and fifty-two, and hence the majority, or number of votes necessary to a choice, would be seventy-seven. But Mr. Davis stated that delegates had not voted for not more than two candidates. Hence the average of one hundred and fifty-two votes was also a fair one.

The Secretary announced that no choice had yet been made, and two members changed their votes.

Mr. Barker moved that the salary for the ensuing year be fixed at one thousand dollars. This motion was adopted.

Mr. Ingham moved, as an amendment that a warrant for seven thousand dollars had been drawn in favor of Messrs. Moore Chambers, to enable him to pay for the white and colored school, and one hundred and two dollars, hitherto withdrawn on account of a paving tax upon this property. Ordered to be laid over.

The thanks of the Board were then tendered to Messrs. Moore Chambers for their liberality in offering them a room for the use of the Board, and it was resolved that when an adjournment was made the Board adjourn to meet at this place.

The Board then adjourned to meet on the first Monday in October, 1867.

The report was as follows: At your last meeting you were directed to refer to us the rather unpleasant duty of assigning to positions on your several committees the members of the Fifth Ward School Board. As when some two months ago I assigned two of the Fifth Ward Board to places on your committees, I understood the appointment to be for one year, as to-day as I know there was then no special excitement as to who should occupy a place on any of said committees. In my judgment it is for the best that the arrangements then made should stand for the year. I therefore make no change, except in the case of Messrs. Trimble and Christian, who are no longer members of the Local Board. In their room I appoint John Stevenson on Rules and Discipline and Wm. Lowes on the Committee on Teachers and Salaries.

Respectfully submitted,

[Signed.] JOHN B. CLARK,
President Board of Control.

On motion of Mr. Swift, the substance of the foregoing report was ordered to be entered on the minutes.

A blank form of school reports was submitted and referred to the Committee on Teachers and Salaries with instructions to report.

After the transaction of some unimportant business, the Convention adjourned.

Oil Conflagration—Heavy Loss.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PETROLEUM CENTER, PA., September 3.—A destructive fire occurred last night on the Boyd Farm, terminus of the Oil Creek Railroad, destroying the oil and shipping yards of D. Brown & Sons, Catz & Co., Cook & Co. and Tibbetts & Gilbert, and also a variety manager, truck and tank cars, owned by the Oil Creek Railroad and Empire line. The fire originated from a lantern used by a watchman, the flame from a match an agent was lighting. The principal losers are D. Brown & Sons, $10,000; N. Patterson, $20,000; Cook & Co., dealers in crude oil, $5,000; Tibbetts & Gilbert, $20,000; Catz & Co., oil shippers, $15,000; Bernet & Black, lumber yard, $20,000; Crane & Thacker, refiners, $10,000; Oil Creek and Empire Line, $44,000. The loss is partially covered by insurance. The favorable wind prevailing prevented one of the largest conflagrations ever witnessed in the oil regions.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 3.—John L. Helm, owing to the feeble condition of his health, and his inability to proceed to Frankfort, was inaugurated to-day at Elizabethtown, Ky. Gov. Bramlette and staff, the City Council of Louisville, and many prominent citizens from various parts of the State were present. Governor Bramlette, in his valedictory, referred to the financial and political condition of the State. He said:

"When I came into office the debt of the State, created before the war, was $3,813,334.98. We borrowed and expended during the war in support of our government $4,653,502.89. This added to the debt existing before the war, and unpaid when I came into office, makes $10,468,829.62. Of this we have paid off all except $4,646,139.46. This amount includes all our present indebtedness, created for internal improvements and school purposes, and debt created for war purposes. The school fund is made a permanent debt under our constitution, and the interest only payable. Deduct it, $1,832,297.46, from the debt which is to be paid, and it leaves our present debt $3,013,832. To meet this we have in the Treasury at this time $1,467,967.91, and in bank and other stocks, constituting the sinking fund, $6,104,286.30. We also have a large unpaid balance due from the Federal Government for war expenditures, which is now being pressed to settlement at Washington. As when some two months ago I assigned two of the Fifth Ward Board to places on your committees, I understood the appointment to be for one year, as to-day as I know there was then no special excitement as to who should occupy a place on any of said committees. SOUTHERN FESTIVAL.

The Schuetzen Corps, of New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City, hold

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1867.

DEFAMATION OF PUBLIC MEN.

Mr. SALMON P. CHASE has been for many years in public life, and has so deported himself as steadily to increase in popularity and influence. In point both of abilities and acquirements he justly ranks among the very foremost men of the country. In the Senate, in the Cabinet, and on the bench of the Supreme Court he has acted a most conspicuous part, and his integrity has not been challenged, from any quarter, until within the last few months. Now he is charged with having made vast and illicit gains while administering the Treasury Department. No facts are stated. No specifications are ventured. No proofs are offered. Only sinister whispers are heard, and vague imputations are indulged.

The reason for this is obvious. Mr. CHASE is a possible candidate for the Presidency: that is, many of his fellow-citizens, through admiration for his talents, gratitude for his services, and confidence in his purity, would gladly make him the Republican candidate for President next year, and do what they can to secure his election. By nature and habit he is a Radical. With an intellect sharp and incisive, as well as profound and ponderous, he subjects all questions to searching analysis, grapples with the essential facts, and establishes his conclusions upon the bottom. Hence, he has little patience with shams and subterfuges, with sophistries and deceits. These qualities raise him above the grade of a politician, to the rank of a statesman—and they excite against him the hatred of the Conservatives, who think it possible to destroy him by filling the air with calumnies for which no man vouches or stands responsible.

Now, if these allegations of peculation, of dividing gains with contractors and brokers, and of making gains in other disreputable ways, at the expense of the public treasury, were substantiated, nothing more would remain, while lamenting the fall of an honored and eminent citizen, but to join in condemning his practices. The disseminators of these accusations do not pretend to have any proof. When interrogated they make no attempts to sustain what they have affirmed, but dextrously fly off upon a new and equally unsustained series of complaints.

Chiefest among these assailants of Mr. CHASE must be reckoned Mr. THURLOW WEED. This gentleman is now farther advanced in years than most of the public men who were his early contemporaries. He is a person of considerable intellect and uncommon tact. His greatest excellence consists not in developing ideas, but in manipulating men. He is essentially a politician. He worships success more than he does a cause. Consequently he is not the sort of person to be drawn in sympathy to a man like Mr. CHASE.

For thirty years Mr. WEED has been assailed with the same weapons he now employs against Mr. CHASE. A continuous stream of defamations has been poured upon him. He has been charged with multitudinous disgraceful arts for money making, practiced both at Albany and New York; with black-mailing legislation; with selling appointments; with tything contracts; and with nearly all other infamies of which a potential public man can be guilty. These charges have neither tarnished his fame nor diminished his influence; and for the simple reason that they have never been sustained by substantial proof. There is an admirable instinct of justice in the breasts of the people which leads to the rejection of calumnies unless they are supported by evidence not to be resisted. His public standing has suffered more from his causeless betrayal of the Republican party, and the contradictory and absurd reasons he has given in explanation or denial thereof, than from all the unfounded assaults of his enemies. Knowing this, he must have fallen upon the era of senility, or he would not have deemed it practicable for him to decapitate Mr. CHASE with weapons whose leaden edges have always hitherto proved ineffectual to cut anybody.

Many public men have been destroyed in this country, as in others, but not by their foes. Such men are never murdered, but simply commit suicide. By extravagances, by follies, or by crimes they forfeit confidence and alienate friends. They fall in no other way. The men who have been most fiercely assailed, having matter in them of real pith and moment, have always risen higher in consequence of the abuse heaped upon them. It always will be so. If Mr. WEED and his imitators mean to damage anybody except themselves, by charging Mr. CHASE with nefarious conduct, they must make definite specifications, and fortify them with proofs so irrefragible as not to be gainsayed.

Mr. CHASE, in a recent letter to a friend in Philadelphia, has spoken in becoming terms of these indecorous assaults upon his character, putting his defamers to the necessity of adducing proofs, or else of hiding their heads for shame.

ASPECT OF THE SOUTHERN STATES.

The Registration of Voters in the insurrectionary States is so far completed as to demonstrate that the process has been conducted with fairness so far as the supervisory military authorities are concerned. Opportunity has been, and will be, given to all who possess the legal qualifications requisite for exercising the right of suffrage to make that fact appear and have their names duly inscribed on the registries. If the District Commanders and their subordinates have evinced a determination to reject improper names, they have shown equal resolution to admit all for which valid claims have been produced. Indeed, too great commendation cannot be bestowed on the care manifested to have justice done under the laws.

The blacks have generally registered; the whites not so generally. None, or next to none, of the blacks are resting under political disabilities; they are aware of their rights in the premises, and have taken the preliminary steps necessary for using them. A considerable part of the whites are disfranchised; not as many, however, as is popularly supposed. Much fewer came within the rule of exclusion prescribed by Congress than was originally computed; among other reasons, for the plain one that fewer of them than was supposed proved to be holders of property to the value of twenty thousand dollars. Moreover, of those proscribed large numbers have been pardoned. Not a few of the whites have abstained from registering. Various motives have led to the adoption of this course by different individuals. Some have abstained from general disgust at the drift of politics in that section of the country during the last few years. They trusted the assurances of leaders, and went into rebellion only to be disappointed; many to be financially ruined. Hence forward they are inclined to keep out of politics, mind their own affairs, and retrieve their circumstances. Others, trained from infancy to esteem the blacks as inferiors and menials, cannot bear the thought of meeting them at the ballot-box, any more than elsewhere, as equals. They fail to reflect that they have met whites there regularly from year to year whose intellectual or social equality they were far enough from acknowledging, and that they went away without contamination or even a sense of degradation from such casual or incidental contact. But it is useless to reason with inveterate prejudice. It must be allowed to wear off in that attrition which results necessarily from commingling with the objects of it. Then there is another class who refrain from registering because, being hostile to the government, they are opposed to Reconstruction on any terms, and especially on such a basis as promises to restore unity and ensure its permanence. This is the rebel element which is in affiliation with President Johnson. Neither he nor they see exactly what is to result from their endeavors to evade and frustrate the laws. But they perceive that to accomplish Reconstruction in accordance with existing laws is substantially to make an end, and that not conformably to their wishes. Consequently the first point with them is to defeat a settlement. In any contingency they infer they can get no farther from consummating their desires than under the plan now proposed; while by contumacy they may get nearer. They stand on technicalities and legal sophistries, and have no difficulty in finding eminent professional ability to help them. But this is not an extraordinary incident. There never was a position so immediately unsound that an ingenious man could not make a plausible and seductive argument in defence of it; nor was there ever so vile a criminal, if he had money or his case gave promise of professional conspicuity, but he could engage the highest legal talent to demonstrate he was innocent and injured. What this class of refusers to register hope is to delay ultimate action, to stir up strife, and to promote discord, in the hope that something will turn up to their advantage.

Another matter is reduced to certainty; and this is that the blacks, in voting, will not be controlled by the men who formerly owned them. In many instances the blacks are showing a large degree of attachment to former masters, who were either comparatively or absolutely kind to them in the days of bondage. This is disclosed in almost innumerable ways; in some cases even by contributing largely or wholly to their maintenance. But the blacks disclose a higher mental development than was attributed to them. They comprehend the situation. Measurably they know what their rights are, and that if these shall be retained it will be by their own independent efforts chiefly. This is one of the prominent symptoms that justify, against those who objected on the score of incompetency and want of self-reliance, the extension of the suffrage to the blacks.

But the blacks are not standing alone. A respectable body of whites are acting with them, including not a few of the most illustrious military leaders of the revolt. These latter tried war, with all the resources of skill and numbers and material that could be employed. They failed, and surrendered upon conditions. As honorable men they mean to keep their engagements. As sagacious men, they comprehend that the old status cannot be restored. When subterranean fires have thrown up vast mountain ranges in vain do men seek the level them. When gigantic war has demolished old and effete institutions, they labor uselessly who seek to rebuild the old foundations. Most of the great and consequential changes in political systems wrought out in the progress of the ages have come through warlike convulsions. Battle fields have most commonly proved the grand avenues of reform, and when an old abuse has sunk beneath the tread of conquering legions it has rarely been able again to raise its head. The Constitution of the United States was the product of Bunker Hill, Lexington, and Saratoga. Few marked advances in Liberty have come to the birth and received baptism except on fields of deadly strife. If swords shall ever be beaten into plow-shares and spears into pruning hooks, it will be after the firm establishment of human rights both in universal opinion and in law.

The opposition of the President and his supporters to the Congressional plan of Reconstruction may occasion delay, but cannot change the result, except by the imposition of yet harsher conditions. The Republican party has the issue in its hands, and will wield its power firmly but beneficently. If the President, under pretense of interpreting the laws, shall continue to defy them, they will remove him from the high position he disgraces. If he imagines he can break the will of the loyal people, and bend them pliantly to his purposes by pouring out his wrath upon all the Generals who show due respect for the laws in defiance of intimations from him, he miscalculates exceedingly the measure of that endurance which carried the Republic through the great ordeal, and which is still adequate for any trial which God in his Providence, or the President in his folly or criminality, may subject it to.

ON WEDNESDAY last the first train of cars crossed Mount Cenis. This memorable event occurred even sooner than was generally expected, and gives evidence of the energy with which this great engineering project has been pushed. No doubt the centre rail work is perfect. We have heard it intimated that this railroad was but a temporary affair, and that, on the completion of the tunnel, all travel across the Alps would go through the latter. We do not think so. It must be vastly pleasanter to traverse the top of the mountains than to ride seven or eight miles through a dark passage way. The spring or summer of 1870 will probably witness the completion of the tunnel, according to Mr. Borelli, (an expressive name, by the way,) who has great confidence in its future progress. A writer in the Boston Advertiser seems to draw encouragement from this success for the completion of that interminable bore of ours, the Hoosac tunnel. But the work at Mount Cenis must have been pushed with much more energy, and perhaps with more skill than that on the Hoosac Mountain. The former was only worked from each end, and the distance penetrated made no difference in the speed of working. The latter has been able to sink more shafts, and so obtain many more headings to work from; and yet it gets on very slowly.

THE publication of novels in France appears not to be a flourishing business, not so much so, at least, as in this country and England. A writer in Belgravia, in an article on French novels, tells us: "In France the reading mania is not nearly so intense as in England or the United States, and no such facilities exist to satisfy it, even if it were more developed than it is. What matter if a novel cost four times less abroad than here; the necessity of purchasing it all makes it at once more expensive than the hiring of it at a merely nominal price. But out of thirty women hardly ten ever open a book; or if they do, they just take a peep at the opening and closing chapters of the roman en vogue, so as to be able to throw language utterance to a couple of stereotyped sentiments about it. I have heard many a fashionable belle thus carelessly praise a novel which I am confident she had not read, and unblushingly acknowledge the beauty of some scenes which she would blush to mention if she had perused them. As a rule, in France, girls are not permitted to read any works of fiction; and the prohibition is only withdrawn after marriage, when novels, like other possessions and indulgencies, such as diamonds and India shawls, become at once allowed."

IN A recent address before the Essex Institute, Dr. Cowes, of the U. S. Army, described the Apache Indians, of Arizona Territory. The word Apache means outsider, or barbarian, and was applied to these Indians by the early French missionaries, because they were not susceptible to influences of civilization. The Apache is small in stature and thick set, never cuts or combs his hair, but wears it in a mat, and on the whole is as repulsive a creature as can well be conceived of. He carries a bow seven feet long, and for the point of his arrow he inserts in a reed a sharp piece of stone, which is left in the wound, and as this is usually poisoned, the wound is usually fatal. Other tribes, more promising, were described, but it was the Doctor's opinion that the only way to manage the Apache fel ows was to exterminate them, and that is easier said than done. They are supposed to number 10,000. They are well mounted and live in the fastnesses of the mountains, and by their incursions range a wide extent of country. But the question is coming to this—Apache or Pacific Railroad—we can have one, but not both.

A Remarkable Case—A Boy Possessed of the Power of Ubiquity.

Spiritualists, and all others possessed of a dogmatic turn of mind, and all those who are fond of unravelling mysteries, may find a bone to pick in a case which is barely beginning to come to light in this city.

In the neighborhood of O'Fallon street lives a very poor but honest and respected family, consisting of a husband and wife and three children. The eldest of the children is a lad of ten years of age. The boy is very sickly, has scarcely seen a well day since his birth, and it is said, is empowered with ubiquity. In other words, he possesses a marvelous faculty of appearing in one or more places at the same time.

We give this statement as we hear it, and only for what it is worth. It is alleged that the boy has been seen at intervals during two days in Paducah, Ky., and at the same time was helpless on a sick bed in this city; that he has been seen bathing in the Mississippi river when his mother was fondly leaning above him and expecting him to expire every moment; that he has been seen at the residence of his cousin in Sangamon county, Ill., when he was incapable of leaving his couch. Such are some of the extraordinary stories that are told us concerning this poor invalid.

What is stranger still, we are told that this ubiquity, as it must be called, is involuntary on the part of the boy; that at times when he is thus ubiquitous, he is seized with violent spasms, and seems to be afraid of all who approach him. He is perfectly conscious of all that is transpiring, and relates conversations and describes all that he sees away from where his body really is. In truth, he appears to be afraid of his own being, and from each succeeding spasm, occasioned by this extraordinary phenomenon, he wakes more feebly, and is rapidly sinking into the grave. Strange and unreal as this must seem to all intelligent readers, there is certainly something very mysterious connected with the affair.—St. Louis Republican.

Violence in Court.

An extraordinary scene of violence has occurred in the Court of Correctional Police at Riom, France. A man named Clement was recently condemned by the Tribunal of Gannat to a month's imprisonment for vagabondage, against which judgment both the accused and the Public Prosecutor appealed, the latter demanding a more severe punishment, as the man had already undergone several previous condemnations. The Court of Riom now increased the sentence to four months' imprisonment and five years' surveillance by the police. The prisoner had no sooner heard the decision than he stooped down, took off his heavy wooden shoes, and hurled it with all force at the Judge, and at the same time addressed him in the grossest language. Fortunately the missile passed a few inches over the President's head, but made a deep hole in the plaster, tearing the hangings with which the wall was covered. A gendarme and two other prisoners, who were standing by, then attempted to secure the prisoner, who, being a man of herculean force, struggled for some time, and continued uttering loud vociferations against the Judge. At length the man's hands and feet were bound, and he having been placed before the bar to be tried for this outrage, received an additional sentence of five years' imprisonment; the Court likewise ordered that he should be forbidden to reside in the same locality as the President for ten years after the expiration of his sentence.

A Cholera Scene in Italy.

A Milan newspaper relates a scene of disorder which occurred lately at Crescenzago. Several cases of cholera having occurred, certain individuals, known for their anti-national tendencies, took advantage of the circumstance to work on the prejudice of the ignorant population. On the morning of the 5th an apothecary was passing along the streets with a child in his arms, when a stupid fellow cried out: "Down on him, he has thrown powder in my eyes to give me the cholera!" A number of women and young men assembled, and pursued the tradesman with cries of "Kill him! kill him!" The man, however, succeeded in gaining his house, and barricaded himself within. A crowd assembled outside, and the Mayor arrived, but he having also been included in the rumors put into circulation, was received with menaces, and it was not until a strong detachment of troops had been sent to the spot that several of the rioters could be arrested and the disorder brought to an end.

GROWING REPUTATION.

If the entire correspondence from South America, Central America and the West Indies, received by Messrs. Hostetter & Smith during the last year were published, though it would probably be considered one of the most extraordinary collections of unsolicited testimony on record. The latter is, written in every variety of style, and emanating from individuals of almost every grade, are, nevertheless, all of the same tenor. Physicians, priests, merchants, planters, military officers, artisans, lawyers, &c., tell one story, admitting without reserve or qualification, that the tonics heretofore in use in those regions have been generally and nearly superseded by

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The confidence manifested by the people of those countries might be fairly called enthusiastic. Yet these are not the only tokens of the growing popularity of the foreign orders for the article from Europe, Australia, New Zealand, China, Japan, East Indies, Cape of Good Hope, Sandwich Islands, &c., have been heavier than at any former period. As an antidote to malaria, a tonic and general invigorant, they all testify to its remarkable efficacy.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which had been advised to "let alone" on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten on my lungs. I knew that the popular mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to a discharge which I was constrained to believe was a salutary provision of Nature to get rid of some morbid condition in the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying to the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I and it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the application you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully,

C——.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

Ladies in the Street Cars.

An exchange has the following sensible remarks on a current subject: American "gentlemen" are rapidly becoming brutes in the street cars—as English or Canadian "gentlemen" have always been. During the last few years we have heard nothing on the subject from the press that did not reflect upon the ladies. We are heartily tired of being continually told that ladies do not always thank gentlemen when they accept their seats; that young girls take the places of old gentlemen, as a matter of course, without so much as a look at acknowledgment, and that gentlemen are so tired when they are going home from business. All this has been written and written, passed from paper to paper, and talked in our cars in language old bachelors and selfish young husbands, until we are almost disgusted at the mention of the subject. It is time that our sex began to look to their own manners in the street cars, and not be continually berating the ladies. Under the cloak of the popular and worn out idea that ladies are ungrateful, gentlemen now retain their seats, leaving the ladies to stand and keep their balance as best they can without the use of the straps. They are simply indulging their selfish propensities, and trying to conceal it from themselves and each other, by frowning in an undertone and through the papers, about the abuse of their privileges by the ladies.

It is truly a noble spectacle—our whole sex whining, because the ladies do not always thank us for our gallantious attentions which we ought to be glad to extend, simply because we are the stronger sex. What greater compliment could the ladies pay us than to take these attentions as a matter of course! We, for our part, were always proud of this once deserved compliment to American chivalry. Even as a German or Canadian ladies were never guilty of such neglect; simply because English, German or Canadian gentlemen never gave them cause to regard these attentions as matters of course. The ladies should, in ordinary politeness, be careful to acknowledge these courses, but more for their own sakes than for ours. The fact that they forget to do so is only a compliment to our whole sex. Time was when we were proud of the chivalry of the American gentlemen. Those days seem to have passed away.

If men will be selfish enough to retain their seats in preference to yielding them to the ladies, let us have no more efforts at concealment of the reason, by brave, gallant attacks upon the other sex. It is the result of pure selfishness, and because they lack the instincts of gallantry. Is it not about time that editors and reporters, and witty correspondents gave up this threadbare habit of talking about those ladies. We suggest that they take up the subject on the other side for a few years.

The "Jimson" Weed.

The following article in the New York Times will equally well apply to this city, where, in some sections, the poisonous plant abounds.

There is a certain poisonous weed, hateful to the eye, most disgusting to the smell, and every way objectionable and vallainous, which is hardy, thriving and prolific in exact proportion to its worse than uselessness, and which is just at this time ripening its seeds. This is the well known datura stramonium—otherwise called Jamestown weed, jimson weed, sometimes, ignorantly, nightshade, poison weed, and by a dozen other names, by any, or all of which it is popularly known. It is good for nothing for general purposes. Chemists, indeed, extract from it a virulent poison, and it has certain medical uses, not to be detailed here. But where a single plant is applied to any good, acres of it grow. Not a year passes but we have to tell the story of a number of children, some of them fatally, by eating the seed-pods of this harmful plant. It springs up rank, hardy and almost ineradicable, on every plot of ground about a house where it can gain a foothold. And this is one thing that makes it particularly dangerous—it thrives best near dwelling houses where children are sure to be found to play with, and probably some of them to eat. It thrives, however, anywhere; wherever there is a vacant lot there the stramonium takes possession and quickly chokes out all other plants. This vicious weed is just now blooming and ripening its seeds, and we shall doubtless soon chronicle its murders. Every individual plant should now be destroyed. Every man who has a proper regard for his family and for his neighbors will utterly destroy all that are about his premises.

Quarter Sessions Court.

Before Hon. Edwin H. Stowe.

Casper Schaelle and wife, complained of by Augustus Ammon, Esq., of East Birmingham, for threatening him with personal violence, were required to give bail in the sum of five hundred dollars and to keep the peace for one year, and in default were committed to jail.

John Larter, of Allegheny, convicted of forcible entry and detainer, on oath of John McFarland, was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars and costs.

John Anderson pleaded guilty to the larceny of a flat boat, the property of Mr. Melson, coal merchant, from the Allegheny river, intending to use it in gathering cobble stones. The defendant was remanded for sentence.

William Beatty was present to answer the complaint of his wife for threatening her with violence. The complaint is that a flat moored in the Ohio river, in the vicinity of Woods' Run, and it appeared they were of a belief. The case was disposed of by a division of the costs.

Philip Blaine, complained of by his wife, was held in his own recognizance to keep the peace for one year.

Wm. Faulkner, accused of having threatened Eliza Peters with a pistol, was ordered to pay the costs.

Wm. S. Spirry, colored, was placed on trial, charged with the larceny of a pair of pantaloons, the property of William Jackson, also colored. No verdict at adjournment.

Perrysville Races.—This afternoon, at three o'clock, there will be two grand trotting matches at the Perrysville Trotting Park, between the celebrated Trippie John and Tuck Roan, and Kate and Soap. There will also be a running race between Daniel O'Connell and Black Kate.

The Cleveland Chief of Police escorted a party of Cleveland Aldermen through the Detroit Penitentiary last week. While there he had his pocket picked—whether by the Aldermen or the prisoners is not stated.

A. F. Stewart, Esq., of Meadville, died on Tuesday, aged 62 years. He had resided there forty-three years, and was a respectable and influential citizen.

Night Scene in a Boarding-House.

A lady, whose husband is in California, Calcutta or Chicago, suddenly awakened from her sleep the other morning, about 2 o'clock, and springing from her bed, dashed out of her room en dishabille, screaming at the top of her voice, "Murder! Help! Murder! Man in my room," etc., etc. Under the circumstances this was quite natural, inasmuch as more than one mistake of this kind had happened in the house recently. Now, it appeared that no less than three ladies had, by some sheer whim, they should have been there, and consequently there was more or less wonder, mixed up with a species of apprehension on the part of the three wives, each one wondering whether it was her husband who had thus forgotten himself or the room.

"Oh come up quickly, shouted the terrified female, holding on to the outside door knob. "I've got him in."

"If it's my Josey" said another dissentient, "I'll learn him better. Confound these night suppers, now he's been at one of them and has mistaken the room, and there I've been alone all night."

"Has he got whiskers?" anxiously asked the wife, upon reaching the landing on the upper floor.

Yes, mam, great big bushy whiskers, laying right along side of my cheek when I awoke. Dear me, if my Alexander was here, he'd learn him better, I'll warrant you."

"Joseph! Joseph! Josey!" shouted the wife at the door.

No answer came, not even a grunt, incident to inebriation.

"May be he has jumped out of the window," suggested the four or five females, all at once, who were made a sympathetic group of long white drapery.

Presently a light was brought, and several of the male boarders appeared, all armed to give the thief or robber such treatment as he had justly earned for himself.

The door was opened and in rushed the valiant squad, and sure enough the fellow was still in bed, with the top of his head just peeping above the sheet.

"Come out of here, you scoundrel!" said one of the men, at the same time grasping him by the leg.

The tableau was strikingly interesting and graphic.

The resolute boarder fell from the impetus he had given himself, for, instead of jerking out a man, it was nothing more than a "frizzel chignon," which the lovely occupant of the bed had forgotten to take off when she retired for the night. It had been detached in her sleep, and grazing her cheek, awakened her. The alarm, of course, was quite natural. The boarders had hearty laugh, and all retired to happy dreams.—Philadelphia Press.

How a Teacher Won the Love of His Pupils.

The New York correspondent of the Syracuse Journal, in alluding to the recent death of Professor Anthon, says: In the learned world he will be missed and lamented; but perhaps no man, who has for so many years occupied so high a place among scholars and whose name is so familiar through the country, could die and be less regretted, socially, than Dr. Anthon. He was quite as remarkable for his aversion for society as for his scholarship. He never married. Two sisters, also unmarried, kept house for him; but such was the incompatibility of temper between them, that the Professor had to separate table set for himself. He hated men and he hated women, but he loved boys—after a pedagogue's fashion. He had a singular way of unbending in the class room. There he was always genial, kindly, and at times even jovial; but out of the class room he was a lion. He flogged his boys unmercifully, and often injustly. He was accustomed to stand at the foot of the stairway as the boys filed down to recitation, regarding them with the grim precision of a drill sergeant. Catching the eye of this and the other lad, he would motion him to leave the procession and retire to a secluded room. The victims obeyed with true forebodings of what was coming. In a few minutes the Professor would appear, rattan in hand, and, beginning with the nearest boy, would go through the lot, asking no questions till the flogging was over, when he would give the victims a chance to justify himself. Of course he often punished boys without the shadow of a pretext, but then he would say encouragingly: "Well, never mind; you didn't deserve it this time, it is true. Set it down for some time when you do deserve it." In this way he did substantial service to each boy. At one time he had over seven hundred pupils in his school, and it is said that he gave them all several tastes of the rod in the course of the year. Notwithstanding his severity his pupils loved him. He was considered the most thorough trainer of boys that ever taught in this country, and if his pupils got floggings they also got real culture.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, September 3, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 141¼; Eighty-one bonds, 113¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 114½; Five Twenties, 1864 106¾; Five Twenties, 1865, 111; 6-20 Consols, 108¼; Seven Thirties, 107⅝@107⅝; Ten Forties, 99¾. Mining shares—Corydon, 1,40; Gregory, 6,15; Quartz Hill, 1,45; Smith & Paramalee, 5,45.

Though gold is very steady, yet the market has not yielded below 141. The large balances held by foreign bankers for their European correspondents enables them to hold up the price, and keep exchange below the specie shipping point. By referring to the statements of the Custom House returns, it will be noticed that the importation of foreign goods exceed those of any former season, and this we must look to as the main cause for keeping up the premium on gold. Our exports, though increasing, do not keep pace with the imports, and unless prices of produce are considerably lowered, we need not look to Europe to put or chase our surplus grain. As to the cotton exports, the amounts must necessarily be large, but prices will range lower than they have ruled during the last six months. The purchasing power of the laboring classes will be reduced, and lower grades of goods have to be purchased, while competition from the cotton growing districts of India and Egypt will force prices down, even of our superior article. Government securities are weaker, without any material decline. The stock market is dull, and prices are unchanged, excepting for nominal transactions. Mining shares steady, with small transactions.

—By orders from the Secretary of the Treasury, the further purchases of Seven Thirty notes of the issues of June and July, 1865, have been stopped. The reasons for this action are that the work of depleting the heavy balances of idle money in the Treasury has been to a great extent accomplished; and that the books have to be made up for the monthly statement of the debt which is to appear early this week. When the report is out we shall know the precise amount of the Treasury purchases of notes and that of the sales of gold and bonds. That these transactions have been so conducted as to cause large disbursements of currency, we know by the effect produced on the money market, which serves as a tolerably reliable index just now of the overflow of currency from the Treasury. It is stated as possible, however, that the purchases of Seven Thirties will, if necessary, be renewed next month, and will go on to any extent that may be expedient, or until the balance of idle money in the coffers of the government is brought down to a mere adequate working average. Mr. McCulloch's efforts to reduce his balance have been generally regarded with much satisfaction. The amount of Seven Thirties bought by the government during the last week is estimated at six to seven millions. From the 15th of August to the 28th inclusive, $14,500,000 of compound notes have been presented at the Subtreasury at New York for redemption, of which $13,800,000 have been liquidated, the balance being held to be examined and counted. It is to be presumed that the redemption of the August series is now nearly completed. The redemption at New York and Boston amount to about $20,000,000; which, added to the redemption at other points, must cover nearly the entire issue outstanding at the date of maturity.

It is estimated by the New York Financial Chronicle that the government must have disposed of twenty-one millions of gold since the end of July. This sum, however, is considerably in excess of the general belief which sets down the probable sales at twelve to fifteen millions. The revelation, by official figures, that the balance of trade for the year ending June 30th was nearly sixty millions in gold against us, and the tendency of European politics to excite an apprehension that a large amount of this balance may be suddenly called home, has produced a very decided impression in favor of a higher premium of gold, while the nominal result in the banks favors that result.

—The Cincinnati Gazette, of Monday, says: The money markets in the country are in a favorable condition for the handling of the crops, and the disbursement of return supplies for goods, provisions, etc., etc., about to be awaiting the orders of the merchants and consumers. Already the New York banks are gaining in deposits and legal tenders, instead of suffering a heavy loss. This is, however, owing more to the movements of Government securities than to the regular demand and supply of the wants of trade; but if there existed the same disposition to rush the crops to market as heretofore made in the early months, was as prevalent as usual at this season of the year more money would be required to send forward and move the crops to the seaboard, but it better for the consumers as well as the producers for the crops to be marketed only about as fast as they are required for consumption and exportation.

In our market, money is in good demand, and the supply of currency is sufficient for a comfortable working of the market. Depositors, as a general thing, have no difficulty in obtaining all they need on first class paper, at 6@10 per cent., but outside parties, even on the best of paper, find some difficulty in obtaining it at 10@12 per cent. Deposits are increasing, but there is no gain in balances, as the demand for currency from the country still continues sufficiently active to prevent any accumulation.

—The week just closed has been characterized with a fair degree of activity in monetary circles. The heavy receipts of grain have kept up a lively demand for money from country banks, commission men, and grain shippers, and the rates for loans and discounts and deposits kept at a low point. There has, however, generally speaking, been no stringency, and first-class paper has been steadily discounted at nearly all of the banks at the currency rate of 10 per cent. Currency in large amounts has been received daily from New York, to replace that sent into the interior, and such a thing as an actual scarcity, with the money markets easy at all the leading money centers, cannot exist permanently in Chicago. The mercantile business of the city has steadily improved, and by the middle of September a good fall trade is looked for in all departments.—Chicago Republican, Sept. 2nd.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

The general markets are quiet and devoid of any new characteristics worthy of special notice. There is a moderate demand for most of the leading commodities, and a fair volume of business, in the aggregate, but round lot operations are of rare occurrence, while prices, generally, have undergone no quotable change.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet but firm, at former quotations—$2,12@2,15 for small lots of prime Red, and 5@10c per bush higher for round lots. Oats dull but unchanged; sale of 250 bushs, on track, at 90c; and we heard of other offers to sell at 91@92c. Barley is in demand, and, as yet, there is but little in market; we heard today of sales to arrive at $1,12 for prime Spring, and on spot it would doubtless bring $1,15@1,16. Corn a firm and advancing; $1,05 is offered and refused, and we heard of a distiller having bought several car loads at Columbus, Ohio, which will cost about $1,09, delivered here. Rye is still quoted at $1,20@1,23.

FLOUR—The demand for Flour continues light, and the market is weak and unsettled, with a drooping tendency. We continue to quote at $10@10,25 for Spring Wheat; $10,75@$11,25 for Winter Wheat, and $13@14 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is quiet at $7,75@8.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm and a shade higher, with a continued fair jobbing demand. We now quote at 13c for Shoulders; 15c for Ribbed, and 16c for Clear Sides, and 21@22c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is dull but firm at 13¾@13¾c, and the same is true of Mess Pork at $24@24,50.

GREEN APPLES—The market continues exceedingly dull, with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, but prices are unchanged—the bulk of the sales range from $2@$3 per bbl.

EGGS—Fresh packed continue in good demand and scarce, and we now quote at 16@17c, which is a still further advance.

BUTTER—Prime fresh pail and firkin Butter is in demand, and sells without much difficulty at 24@25c. No demand whatever for common packed.

SALT—Is dull. We now quote Allegheny River brands at $2,35, on track, and $2,35, delivered.

HAY—Is dull but unchanged—sales from country wagons at $13@18 per ton, according to quality.

CHEESE—Is unchanged at 12½@13c, according to quality.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

CRUDE—The market was considerably excited to-day, under the influence of continued favorable advices from the east, and prices are still tending upward. The sales, however, were very light, which was in consequence of the extreme views of holders, the majority of whom seem determined, if it is possible, to spring a still further advance. Sales of 80 barrels on spot, at 12c, bbls to be returned; 140 at 12c; and 140 at 12¼. There may have been other sales, but the above were all we had reported, and the cause for the very limited transactions, as we have already stated, was owing to the extreme views of holders. Spot oil was held at 12½@13c. Private telegrams from Oil City report the market very excited, and 50@60c per barrel more asked for crude. This will, doubtless, be reflected in the sales of the refined.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was also considerably excited to-day, and compared with yesterday, prices have still further advanced. September sold at 32@32½c, against 31c yesterday, and for the last three months it was thought that 33c could have been obtained this evening, though there were no sales effected at that price, simply for the reason that there were, so far as we could learn, no offers to sell. Sale of 500 bbls for September, buyer's option, at 32c; 1000 do at 32½c; and 2,000 for the last four months, 800 each month—early this morning—at 32½. The advices from the east continues favorable for still higher prices, and it is predicted that Antwerp will go to 80 francs.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

CATTLE.

The market, under the influence of a decreased supply, ruled considerably firmer this week, and while in some instances a slight advance was sprung, as a general thing, prices underwent but little change, compared with last week. There were, in proportion to the receipts, a much larger number of good fat cattle than usual, and these were nearly all disposed of at satisfactory prices, say from 7 to 7¼c, and some few extra brought the even 8c. The demand this week was restricted almost entirely to supplying the wants of the retail trade, and had there been a large supply of cattle on sale, a hard market would have been inevitable. There was only a moderate demand for stock cattle, but the offerings were light, and we continue to quote this class of stock at 4 to 6c, according to quality. Bulls may be quoted at 2½ to 3½c.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The Sheep market was again hard this week and with a supply somewhat in excess of the demand, and but few, if any, wholesale buyers in market, prices, although without quotable change, compared with last week, are still tending downward. Prime fat mutton Sheep sold at from 4½@5c—some few extra brought 5½c. Stock Sheep dull with some few sales at $2 to $2,50 per head. Dent wholesaled 80 head, averaging about 100 lbs, to Christy & Co. at 4½c. Lambs also were dull but without decided change, ranging from $1,50 to $4 per head. Hart sold Crum 171 head Sheep and Lambs, together, at $2,90 per head.

HOGS.

The operations in this class of stock at these yards continue light, as the demand is restricted almost entirely to supplying the wants of the local trade. Prices, however, have undergone no quotable change, and we continue to give 7 to 7½c, gross, as the ruling figures for fair to good averages. Chryst wholesaled a small bunch of light Hogs to Emerick & Co. at 6½c.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

J. C. Dolan wholesaled 20 head of prime fat Illinois steers, averaging 1050, to McAllister, at 7,40; 16 head to Hathaway & Co., at 7; and retailed 20 head at 6¾ to 7¼. S. Hudson sold Kerwin 48 head of pretty good Green county cattle, averaging 1200, at 6,65. Jas. McAllister retailed 20 head of prime fat cattle at 7¼ to 8; and sold 18 head for Hyde at 5 to 6¼. John Kerwin retailed 15 head at 7¼ to 7¾—shipped 33 head east. Glass & Lafferty sold 25 head to Hathaway at 3¾ to 6; 22 head for Chryst at 4,40 to 5,50; and 44 head for Easter & Koster at 5 to 6¼c. Thayer wholesaled 12 head common cattle to B. McGarvey at 5¼. Craig sold 20 head to "Economites" at 5. Brown sold Marks & Trautman 20 head 2¾ to 5. P. Hartman 31 head at 5½ to 7¼. Marks & Trautman, 57 head at 5½ to 7¼. L. Shamberg, 34 head at 4 to 7. Myers & Neely, 124 head at 4¾ to 7,65. Kraus & Haas 45 head at 4¾ to 7¾. Rothehilds & Byers, 69 head at 4 to 7¼. Rogers, 29 head at 3¾ to 6¾. Hanlon, 23 head at 4½ to 7¼. Greenwald & Kahn 73 head at about 4 to 7¾.

Katz & Bro. report having sold 40 head of resh cows and springers, at prices ranging from $30 to $60 per head.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is about at a stand at this point, with less than twenty inches in the channel by the marks. There have been some light rains at the headwaters of the Allegheny within the past day or two, but not enough to have any influence on that stream. The weather continues cloudy and unsettled, with strong indications at times of rain.

Capt. Thos. Rogers' new boat Selma, for the New Orleans and Mobile trade, is rapidly approaching completion, and she presents a very staunch and handsome appearance.

The Luella and Guidon arrived at Omaha from Fort Benton on Saturday last. The Guidon is reported as having brought down $500,000 in gold dust, and 260 passengers.

The Ida Rees arrived at St. Louis on Saturday, and was announced to load for Cincinnati this week. The St. Louis Democrat, of Monday, has the following:

A merchant of this city dryed a box of merchandise the other day to the steamer Henry Ames. Accidentally the box was broken, and a keg of powder was displayed. A fine, we believe, of $500, and imprisonment, are the punishments for this sort of offense. The merchant is "respectable." Inspector Downing, of the customs department, was put in possession of the case. It is thought that many of the disasters to steamboats were caused by such little delinquencies.

A set-to took place Friday, at Louisville, between the Captain of the Ezra Porter and the second clerk of the Cora S. The cause was the latter charged the former of "cutting rates."

Phillip Metchin, mate of the Minnesota, was killed by a raftsman, near Winona, on Saturday, formerly a deck hand on the river.

The following we clip from the Memphis Avalanche, of Friday: Captain Bob Gibson is at present at Louisville, and therefore is not aware of the good luck which has fallen to his lot. Mrs. Gibson is at Marietta, Georgia, where she was delivered on Tuesday of two fine girl babies. The mother and children are doing well. The season is opening briskly with Captain Gibson, and he will have to stir his stumps to make provisions for "two by four." Mrs. H. P. Ward, wife of the clerk of the Lady, died very suddenly on Tuesday morning. What makes it unusually distressing, they had been married but a short time. The remains of Mrs. Ward will be conveyed to her friends, in Caseyville, Kentucky.

The Memphis paper also states: We were present yesterday at a magistrate's court, when quite an interesting trial was before it. The evidence was that a barrel of flour had been landed at one of the wharfboats, and had been counted by the wharfboat clerk. Immediately after the owner of the flour left the wharf, waiting for the house to which the ties were consigned was informed that they were there to receive a number, and he proceeded to the wharfboat in custody until they should be removed. It was pleaded that the ties had never been received, and that, as some of them were missing, the wharfboat was responsible. The suit was brought for freight and charges, and judgment was pronounced in favor of defendant, it being held that the notice to the draymen was not a delivery. We have not learned that the claim for the missing ties, as the legitimate result of the suit. An appeal was taken from the court below.

Steamboatmen here will be interested in the following, from the St. Louis Republican of Saturday: On the subject of business we have to notice a very remarkable change in the channels of transportation. The energetic managers of the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company have established a new "through" rate from Chicago and Cincinnati to New Orleans, and are in receipt daily, of very numerous consignments of freight transferred to the packets and carried to its destination. As an item of the amount, we can say that 12,000 barrels of pork from Chicago have passed through this city within the past thirty days on its way South. From Cincinnati shipments are also large, averaging five hundred per week. The connection with Chicago is made via the Chicago, Quincy and Burlington Railroad, and the regular Keokuk packets. The Ohio and Mississippi Railroad is the medium of connection with Cincinnati. This new arrangement will doubtless prove of immense benefit to the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company particularly, and to the entire steamboat interest of the west generally, for if it is now a well established fact that a through rate can be given via river and rail, that will increase the business of a regular steamboat line from Cincinnati to New Orleans.

MATE KILLED.—The Northern Line Packet Company received a dispatch from Winona this morning stating that Phillip Metchin, the mate of the Minnesota, was killed yesterday by a raftsman. His remains are on the boat, and will be brought to St. Louis, when full particulars will be known. He has been employed in the capacity of mate with the Northern Line for over six years, who, by his urbanity, has entertained a high regard for him as a faithful steady and sober man. He leaves a family in the vicinity of Pittsburgh, where he resided.—St. Louis Dispatch, Aug. 31.

The officers of the Viola Belle, on their way down to St. Louis from Fort Benton, saw immense herds of buffalo on the plains, and numbers were swimming the river. About five hundred of them were observed sticking in the mud in the shoal water near the mouth of the river near which point cannon and guns were fired into the herd, killing and wounding a great number, about a dozen of which the officers took board for the boat's larder. Seven calves were brought down by Captain Weaver.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Monday, says: The new stern-wheel steamer Success, Capt. James B. Conway, arrived from Pittsburgh with 100 tons of freight and 400 bushels of coal, drawing thirty-four inches forward and four inches forward of the cylinders. She ships twenty-five tons on the Silver Cloud for New Orleans, fifteen tons for Memphis on the Champion, and seventy tons for Louisville.
